Entrance Hymn

O King of might and splendour, creator most adored,

This sacrifice we render to thee as sovereign Lord.
May these our gifts be pleasing unto thy majesty,
Our hearts from sin releasing, who have offended thee.

Thy body thou hast given, thy blood thou hast outpoured

That sin might be forgiven O Jesus loving Lord.

As now with love most tender, thy death we celebrate,

Our lives in self surrender, to thee we consecrate.

Recessional Hymn

Sing it in the valleys,
Shout it from the mountain tops,
Jesus came to save us,
And his saving never stops.
He is King of Kings,
And new life he brings,
Sing it in the valleys,
Shout it from the mountain tops,
Oh, Oh, shout it from the mountain tops.

Jesus you are by my side, You take all my fears.
If I only come to you, you will heal the pain of years.

You have not deserted me, though I go astray.
Jesus, take me in your arms,
Help me walk with you today.

“Be strong and take heart, all you who hope in the LORD”
Psalm 1:24

Parish News & Announcements:

A few words from Fr. Joe ...

During the week, there has been a huge international cycling convention on in Dublin, Velocity. I think the conference is concerned with how cycling is integrated into the transport infrastructure and how perhaps we can shift a little of the space given to cars over to bikes in our cities. Bikes are great for short journeys, and e-bikes make many peoples' commute to work possible on two wheels. Bikes are very eco-friendly and the benefits to health and wellbeing are numerous. For some reason, there are incredible tensions between car users and cyclists, each calling out the poor behaviour of the other, even though when there is an accident it is the cyclist who always comes off worst. Pedestrians clearly shouldn't have to share the footpath with cyclists, and hopefully those on two feet are always careful when they step off the footpath into the cycle lane to cross the road. The Gospels don't say very much about transport and nothing at all about bikes, but they are very concerned with being a good neighbour and showing care and concern for the other. This is a moment when we all need to bring Gospel values to how we travel, how we show care for others and how our means of transport effects the environment. It's always a learning experience to bring our Christian behaviours to our social interactions with others.

Notice from Archbishop Martin

On reaching his 75th birthday on 24th May last, Bishop Raymond Field offered his resignation from the office of Auxiliary Bishop of Dublin in accordance with Canon Law. I write to inform you that Pope Francis has accepted that resignation. Bishop Field has been Auxiliary Bishop for the Archdiocese of Dublin since 1997 and has tirelessly guided the Pastoral Area assigned to him, as well as working in the area of health care. He has led the Diocesan celebrations of the World Day of the Sick for numerous years.

At Episcopal Conference level, Bishop Field has undertaken many roles particularly in the areas of Justice and Peace, Health Care and Migration.

I am sure that you will join me in expressing gratitude to Bishop Field and in wishing him every blessing in the years to come.

+Diarmuid Martin, Archbishop of Dublin

The Holy Ghost Missionaries

This weekend our Masses will be celebrated by a Holy Ghost Missionary Priest. The Congregation of the Holy Spirit (Holy Ghost Missionaries) is a registered Charity in Ireland whose charitable purposes includes working on the missions by building up communities and providing resources and support for those in need. They aim to help the poorest and most abandoned in society. Fr. Brian McLaughlin CsSp, one of their team, will speak about his own Mission experiences and the works of the Congregation world-wide. All donations go directly to their Missionary Work in its entirety. Thank you to the people, the Parish and the Diocese for all their support in the past.
